

To run: Build project and run "StartRoboRally"

The program can start, select players, use command cards, there is an early type of walls that doesn't do anything other than graphics. There are also buttons for executing the different commands.